

EDIFY EPISODE: CATHOLICS AND CULTURE

PRESENTED BY CURTIS MARTIN

Discussion Questions:

1. How have Catholics transformed American Culture over the past 100 years?
2. What societal problems SHOULD Americans count on Catholics to help solve?
3. Who IS responsible for caring for this generation of people? Is it the government or should it be Christians? What would have a better outcome?
4. Is there enough of an urgency in America to care for people's material needs? How about their spiritual (and mental health) needs?
5. Is the best way to express distributive justice forced by having the government redistribute through taxes? Or is a much better way voluntary, through forming people's hearts to care for those with less than they do?
6. Is there an organization on the planet today that truly cares for more people than the Catholic Church?
